The following are ledgers which recorded school- fees paid by pupils. It was mandatory for all pupils in District, Minor Model Schools and National Schools to pay fees, but in the latter the rule was not always enforced. Three levels of fees were fixed for Model Schools @ 5/-, 2/6, and 1/1 per quarter, depending on a family's financial situation.

Document	NE/9/00035
-----------------	------------

Code Date	March 1857 – Feb 1867

The new National Education system for Ireland was launched by the British Government in 1831. The country was divided into education districts which were identified by numbers. The district in the following documents relates to District 24, whose centre was Bailieborough town, where the District Schools' Inspector based his office and depot. A purpose-built office was later provided for the inspector in 1879 within the precincts of Bailieborough District National Model School. District 24 included parts of east Co. Cavan, south Co. Monaghan, west Co. Louth and some parishes in north Co. Meath.

The following documents are Inspectors' Marking Papers (Examination Rolls) used in the annual 'Payments by Results Examinations' which were introduced in 1872. Samples are included from most schools in District 24. Years covered are 1874 - 1879 and 1898/9, with exceptions. Children's scores ranged from 0 to 2. A score of 1 represented a satisfactory pass while a score of 2, a fair pass. 'R' indicated that a pupil could not be examined in the same class again. These documents contain details on teaching staff in each school; position, age, religion, marital status, appointment date to position, appointment date under the Board, trained or untrained, classification achieved and total income. Also included are names and ages of pupils who qualified for examination by having annual attendances of 90 and later 100 days. The 1898 documents are statistical only, but contain information on teaching staff and managers.
